From the Vicarage

'Vicar, can't you do something about the weather? You have a hotline to God!' Actually, all of us can have a hotline to God. We call it 'prayer'. It is always available, and it is simple enough for a small child to use. 'The Lord's Prayer', or the 'Our Father', is a prayer most of us know in one form or another. But it is not a magic formula. The actual words are not as important as the spirit behind them, so it is worth reminding ourselves what God is really listening for.

'Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name' God wants us to relate to him as 'Father'. He gave us life, and wants us to see ourselves as his dearly loved children – Jesus lived and died and rose again to bring us into this position. He is in the highest place, and is worthy of all respect; if we don't have that respect for him we can hardly expect him to listen to us!

'Your kingdom come, your will be done on earth as it is in heaven' God's priorities are of first importance. If we're not interested in what the ruler of the universe wants, why should he be interested in us? Actually, it is not hard to accept his priorities; God is good and what he wants is good. With that in mind, let's talk to him about what is going on in the world – and in our own lives.

'Give us today our daily bread' God's purposes include us: he wants us to be involved with what he is doing and the least of our concerns matter to him. He controls all the laws of nature, and we depend on him for life and health and food, and for all the circumstances of life. He does not want us to take these things for granted, but to ask him daily to give us what we need – and to appreciate them! (He may not always give us what we want – just what we need to fulfil his purposes for our lives. He often gives far more...)

'Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us' We all need to be forgiven, and Jesus died on the cross to make it possible. But we do have to admit to God what we've done wrong, and ask him to forgive us. There is one condition: if we want to be forgiven we need also to forgive. That does not mean forgetting; it means writing off the debt and not holding it against the one who has hurt us.

'Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.' Temptations will come, evil will happen. We need help to stand up to them, and God wants us to ask for his help.

'For the kingdom, the power, and the glory are yours now and for ever. Amen.' This ending was probably not original, but it is a typically Jewish way of ending a time of prayer, and is good! It reminds us that God is God, as we put down the 'phone'!

ST GREGORY'S MATTERS

Buds of May

Annual Parochial Church Meeting: A well attended APCM (28th April) received key reports relating to our activities over the year, as well as electing officers for 2013:

Jane Inman and Wendy Green	Churchwardens
Jenny Daniell	Cathedral Liaison Support Officer
John Denning	Treasurer
Vicki Donajgrodzka
Brian Green	Churchwarden Emeritus
Robert Inman	Deputy Churchwarden
David Varnish
Liz Varnish	Secretary
Marcia Watson	Safeguarding Officer
Ann Weald
Pauline Wills

Francis Daniell continues as Deanery Synod Representative.

"Take my life and let it be consecrated, Lord, to thee"

(A copy of The Annual Report and Accounts can be found at the back of church.)

Diocesan Lent Appeal: We were pleased to be able to contribute £75 to the Bishop's appeal that will help our Diocese to provide a much needed replacement vehicle for fellow Anglicans in Kaduna, Northern Nigeria.

Pipe Dream: The most challenging part of updating the back-of-church heating system was to find a plumber who was unphased by our prehistoric macro-bore pipes (just about wide enough for a small child to crawl through!). We are so pleased with the replacement gleaming white modern radiator, that our immediate quest is to find a suitable way of quickly covering it up!

Another piece: The magical musicalisation of our worship took another step forward with the recent introduction of a unique-to-St Gregory's setting of Agnus Dei, written for us by Sue Douglass. (If you thought that was something, just wait until you hear the Sanctus!).

Fly-past: During a recent service Tim cleverly tested our ability to concentrate exclusively on his sermon by simultaneously releasing a mercurial air-borne distraction that flitted (Holy Spirit-like) amongst us. No great surprise then when, afterwards, no-one admitted to ever seeing it ... “great sermon what butterfly?”

Bustin’ out all over:

June will, indeed, be busy:

“Songs for a Summer’s Afternoon” will be presented on 9th June at 4.00pm, by The Circle Singers - then tea and cakes, followed by Choral Evensong at 6.00pm. If that’s all a bit too exciting for one day you can wander along and just take in the parts you fancy. (See separate notice).

Warwickshire Open Studios: This county-wide arts event seems to grow in content and popularity year on year. For two weeks, from 29th June, St Gregory’s will proudly host exhibits by Julie Law, Karen Delahunty and Judith Perry. (See separate notice for full details, including refreshment availability).

“Infinite Love” is the set theme of the next prestigious Advanced Performer Cert. Music Examination. Solomon Hayes, our local, very talented counter-tenor (remember his contribution to our Easter Day Service) is a candidate. As part of his preparation for the real test, he will be presenting a recital (<30mins) after the joint service at Long Itchington on Sunday 30th June. A rare opportunity to hear Solomon and to provide him with a critical live audience situation.

The Peace: There comes a moment in our Holy Communion service when we are invited to “share the peace” with one another. This may be interpreted by some as an invitation to do a bit of leg-stretching, others, as a chance to catch up with the gossip. Some might find it cringingly intimidating, or mildly resent its disruptive effect on an otherwise nicely flowing service. Anyway, whatever your view, “The Peace” is not, as sometimes perceived, a recently introduced trendy gimmick but, indeed, a long-recognised sacred act, deeply rooted in the beginnings of the church and our belief in Christ. It has its origins in the Old Testament greeting “Shalom aleichem” (Peace be upon you) - words used by Jesus on Easter Day. Versions of this phrase have been part of Christian worship ever since. Its current position in the service was established by St Augustine, sometime around 400 AD - “embrace one another with a holy kiss”.

It certainly doesn’t go unnoticed that, at St Gregory’s, we are particularly enthusiastic “peace sharers”, genuinely celebrating our affectionate unity as children of God. Often, only the announcement of the next hymn interrupts those who strive to “collect the whole set”. This, of course, is hardly achievable, given the animated mêlée in the aisle and a general reluctance to do a spot of “pew-hopping”. It is certainly not obligatory to exchange with everyone - there is no great celestial database busily recording our weekly “hug-quotient”. Just as well, really - in a congregation of 30 there would need to be all of 435 individual encounters! What is important is that we remember the deep significance of this act and greet each other with the unreserved love that has been nurtured and passed on by generations of Christians for over 2000 years.

Peace be with you!

Risen from the ashes: St Gregory's unite with our neighbours in Radford Semele, as they celebrate the re-opening of St Nicholas Church after a 5-year closure.

Once again, it will become a place where Christians meet and worship together, knowing that God is always in their midst.

“the work is great; for the palace will not be for man but for the Lord God”

GOVERNMENT ASKS FOR BLANK CHEQUE FOR HS2 WHILE SPENDING WATCHDOG SLAMS IT!

As you may have seen in the media, the government is promoting a 'Paving Bill' which would give it a blank cheque to spend money in preparation for HS2 before any democratic decision is taken whether to go ahead with it – the Hybrid Bill which needs to pass through Parliament will only be introduced at the end of this year at the earliest and may well not be concluded before the next election.

At the same time, the National Audit Office, the government's spending watchdog, has produced a damning report on HS2. The NAO questions whether HS2 would promote economic growth, narrow the economic gap between the north and south of the country, and provide value for money. It also questions whether the new line can be delivered on time and without cost over-runs.

The NAO's conclusions have been supported by the chair of the Public Accounts Committee, Margaret Hodge MP, who said that HS2 will not deliver the intended benefits for travellers and the regions, or value for the taxpayer.

As one newspaper commentator said, the question is when George Osborne will have the guts to cancel this white elephant project.

Locally, the cost pressures on HS2 have been manifested in changes to the route here in Offchurch. In the latest design which we have seen, the track has been raised significantly across the parish. This is a cost saving measure, designed to create less spoil from digging cuttings and use more of it in building embankments, rather than having to carry it away. But the result is that the train will be more visible and noise nuisance will be greater.

While we have limited influence over national decisions we do have an opportunity to make our views known on these local issues. By the time you read this, all households should have received information on the current consultation on the Environmental Statement for HS2, and how to respond to it. We urge you to do so!

To the residents of Offchurch

We, the Radford Semele bell ringers, would like to thank the residents of Offchurch for putting up with us practising at St Gregory's on a Monday night for the last 5 years. We lost the use of our tower when St Nicholas Church was burnt down in 2008. When Paddy Taylor offered us the use of St Gregory's I'm sure nobody thought it would go on for as long as it has. However, as you may have seen, the rebuilding of the Church in Radford Semele is very near completion and we are due to recommence ringing at our home tower very soon.

We thank you all for not complaining about us once and hope that you will find the time to come and visit St Nicholas Church in the very near future. Externally, you will not notice much that is different but internally, it is a different story – come and see for yourself!

With thanks again,

*Mists in May and heat in June
Bring all things into tune.*

Also

*Mist in May, heat in June,
Makes the harvest come right
soon.*

There is no doubt that a calm or warm June which gives plenty of night-time dew combines to give help towards an acceleration in crop and plant growth.

Now the most frequent weather pattern affecting England during June is a stormy one. Usually, between 1st to 4th June, the first wave of cool stormy summer weather occurs with frequent cyclonic disturbances. Fortunately, a dry spell from the 5th to the 11th, peaking on the 7th, with anticyclones helps to change the trend. However, the 12th to the 14th is usually associated with a second phase of wet cool stormy weather followed by a third and final onslaught from about the 20th into early July with the return of the westerlies.

This spring in the Churchyard has been better when I look with hindsight. As you know we suffered and moaned about the continuing wet and cold, we lost two Saturdays to snow, you will remember. Yet the early snowdrops were abundant and with the cold, stayed in flower for weeks. Same with the daffodils when they came out, it was the very warm spell for the May Bank holiday that finished them off. Now the early seed setting plants: primroses and cowslips; they must have enjoyed last summer, which we didn't, because they have just multiplied like crazy. So much so that the primroses have taken over on the cremation remembrance plot totally.

As you can see, the grass has at last regained its strength and has found new growing powers; last time we were mowing, I'm sure I could watch it growing. It really needs cutting every week, but there we can't leave everything else; we have dishes to wash and wives to take out. (Oh sorry chaps, perhaps I shouldn't have mentioned that.) Our birds have been busy - a couple of the boxes seem to have been occupied. Tits we think, blue and great. I'm waiting for the June flowers at the moment The plants are looking strong, so let's hope that they do as well as the spring bulbs.

I did notice a saying for Saint Barnabas Day, 11th June, On St

Barnabas put a scythe to the grass. It might be OK for St Barnabas but we have to start a bit earlier than that. I see that farmers regard his day as the day to start the hay harvest; well, we had enough for hay in May.

Get your scythes ready for the 8th and 29th June, both Saturdays. I'm hoping for a dry spell in the second half of June to slow the grass down. Hopefully it will be getting a bit tired by then. Come if you can, coffee and biccies at eleven. Thanks again for all your hard work.

Offchurch Weather Watch - April 2013

April was notable this year for being very dry, which certainly could not have been said of the previous year. At 17.4 mm the monthly rainfall was only 46% of Offchurch's April average of 37.8 mm. How very different from last April when 107 mm fell at the start of one of the wettest summers on record.

Another feature of this year was the lateness of spring due to the cold temperatures, especially at the start of the month, following as it did, a very cold March. Average temperatures were over a degree lower than normal at 8°C and yet sunshine totals for the area were slightly above average. Winds from the easterly direction were responsible for these low temperatures.

Following on from the previous month the air pressure remained high over most of the month. Indeed, it only fell substantially below 1000 hPa for a short period in the second week of the month.

Weather history and Culture – The Age of Reason

You may have noticed the use of hPa as the unit of pressure. This stands for hectopascals and is named in honour of the French scientist Blaise Pascal. Working during the middle of the 17th century, a period now known as the Age of Reason, he discovered that air pressure changed with height above the earth's surface and that changes in pressure affected the weather. The hectopascal is one-hundredth of a pascal (Pa) and is used because it relates directly to the earlier unit of pressure, the millibar (mba). Thus one hPa equals one mba. The latter was in common use until the new unit was adopted, along with centigrade for temperature amongst other SI units, in 1971.

I Have a Little Satnav

I have a little Satnav
It sits there in my car
A Satnav is a driver's friend
It tells you where you are.

It lists the vehicles just in front
And all those to the rear
And taking this into account
It specifies my gear.

I have a little Satnav
I've had it all my life
It's better than the normal ones
My Satnav is my wife!

I'm sure no other driver
Has so helpful a device
For when we leave and lock the car
It still gives its advice.

It gives me full instructions
Especially how to drive
"It's thirty miles an hour" it says.
"You're doing thirty five."

It fills me up with counselling
Each journey's pretty fraught.
So why don't I change it
And get a quieter sort?

It tells me when to stop and start
And when to use the brake
And tells me that it's never ever
Safe to overtake!

Ah well, you see, it cleans the house,
Makes sure I'm properly fed,
It washes all my shirts and things
And - keeps me warm in bed!

It tells me when a light is red
And when it goes to green,
It seems to know instinctively
Just when to intervene.

Despite all these advantages
And my tendency to scoff,
I do wish that once in a while
I could turn the damn thing off!!

Sleuth

Friday 19th July 2013
Offchurch Village Hall
7.30pm

Majikal Theatre will be returning to Offchurch Village Hall on Friday 19th July with one of the most famous thrillers of all time - Sleuth. Written by Anthony Shaffer (and famously put on screen in 1972 starring the amazing duo of Michael Caine and Laurence Olivier), Sleuth is rarely seen on stage in recent years due to the license being restricted, so it is a rare treat to be able to see the incredible twists and turns of this Tony Award Winning masterpiece live. The script was remade in 2007 for the cinema once again, this time starring Michael Caine and Jude Law, and directed by Kenneth Branagh.

Sleuth remains one of the most intriguing plays anyone will ever have the opportunity to see on stage, and it is a real coup for Majikal Theatre to be granted the opportunity to perform it. Tickets are available from the Majikal Theatre website at www.majikaltheatre.co.uk or on their booking line on 07942 99 98 95.
